Market commentary

Cautious at 50-period moving average

Hieu Tran
hieu.ttm@kisvn.vn

Vietnam stock markets continued to go down amid the selling pressure at the afternoon session. Besides, a second ETF, tracking the VN30Index, was listed on HSX yesterday. This fund's market cap was around VND56bn and managed by SSIAM.

At the close, the VNIndex lost 0.44% to close at 846.4 pts. Meanwhile, trading volume decreased to 221 million shares or VND3,874bn.

Foreign investors continued to sell with a net value of VND282bn, the eighth selling session in a row, on HSX. They sold VGC, VHM, and VIC the most with net values of VND58bn, VND58bn, and VND35bn, respectively.

Real Estate was the worst sector due to VIC (-1.4%), VHM (-0.1%), VRE (-1.5%), DXG (-2.4%), SCR (-1.1%), and TCH (-0.3%). Among which, DXG was not allowed to trade on margin after its business results in 1H20 were negative.

Moreover, selling pressure pushed Banking stocks down, such as CTG (-1.3%), BID (-0.8%), HDB (-0.7%), ACB (-0.8%), MBB (-0.6%), and EIB (-0.9%).

In contrast, some constituents of VN30 closed in green territory because of POW (+0.2%), REE (+0.7%), ROS (+0.9%), SBT (+2.1%), and STB (+0.9%).

Market sentiment has become cautious as the VNIndex retests its 50-period moving average. However, the short-term uptrend is still intact as thanks to the confirmation of trending indicators. Therefore, traders should increase their long position and focus on leading stocks.

Breaking news

► Thailand: Economy sinks into a deep recession

As Thailand's economy is relying heavily on tourism and service sectors, it is, therefore, becoming more vulnerable to the damage of the COVID-19 pandemic. According to the latest data released from the National Economic and Social Development Council, the gross domestic output fell sharply by 12.2% YoY, which is by far the lowest level since the 1997 ASIAN financial crisis. However, the result was relatively better than economists' expectations of 13% contraction. Besides, the policymakers also cut their full-year forecast of GDP growth to 7.3% - 7.8% contraction from an earlier estimate of 5% - 6% reduction under the assumption that the outbreak would successfully be contained within the fourth quarter of 2020.
