August steel production updates

August sale volume retreated.....

- On Sep 20, Vietnam Steel Association (VSA) publicized the slightly diminishing Aug steel production volume of 2.3mn tonnes, -1.9% on mom basis but unchanged on yoy comparison
- The consumption volume was pulled back further to 1.9mn tonnes, dropped by 8.1% yoy and 9.4% mom.
- Breaking down to domestic sale volume (1.2mn tonnes, -24.9% yoy, -16.3% mom), we witnessed the local demand was hit harder.
- The stricter and lingering lockdown policies in some key economic zones disrupt the supply chain and force the construction sites to suspend.
- In contrast to the dimming local-consumed volume, the export-driven volume was shining when growing to 696,106 tonnes, +51% yoy, 6% mom.
- Steel inventory as of end-August was 1.4mn tonnes, surging by 12.7% yoy and 4.9% mom.
- The movements of raw material input prices are mixed in the last 30 days: as of end Sep 20, iron ore eased to USD118/mt (-USD24/mt), hot roll coil (HRC) rose to USD894/mt (+28USD/mt); hard coking coal was flat at USD118/mt
- Based on quoted prices of Hoa Phat steel bar in Aug, the local prices of steel products were stable at VND16.1mn/tonne.

But 8M21 landscape still brisk

- Overall, Vietnam produced 20.7mn tonnes in the first 8M21, generating an exciting growth of 28.8% yoy. The total sale volume was also encouraging (13.2mn tonnes, + 45.6% yoy)
- Of which, the local consumption volume was 12.9mn tonnes, +41.1% yoy while the export volume skyrocketed to 4.8mn tonnes, +75.6% yoy.
