Ca Mau Fertilizer (DCM)

AGM Briefing: The party has yet to fade

- On Apr 26, we tuned in to DCM's AGM presentation briefing for the upcoming business expansion plan. The unstoppable price hike of fertilizer throws a spotlight on how far their earnings could stretch. However, DCM's emphasis on the 2022F guidance seems ambiguous.

Arguably low 2022F target amid a 295% completion in 1Q22

- As stressing on released materials before, DCM reassures a prudent FY2022F guidance of VND9,060bn revenue (770,000 tonnes urea), -10% yoy and VND513bn NPAT, -74% yoy.
- Nonetheless, DCM recorded revenue of VND4,028bn (+111% yoy), and NPAT of VND1,515bn (+897% yoy) in 1Q22, fulfilling 44%/295% of their guidance.
- A 18% cash dividend at par is going to be paid, equivalent to VND953bn (about 49% of 2021's undistributed earnings). The company has plan to pay 8% cash dividend at par from 2022F's undistributed earnings in 2023F.
- As of end-2021, the net cash balance made up 44% of total assets, equivalent to VND4.1tn.

Taping into NPK market in the Central Highland and the Southwest

- NPK factory was accepted in the end of Mar-22, promising to help the company increase NPK domestic and export market shares.
- The project of converting and supplying raw CO2 is entering its final stage, which is expected to help increase urea capacity by 110,000 tonnes/year.
- In the long term, DCM plans to build strategic storage chains in the Southwestern provinces in order to serve the need of stockpiling and distribution.
- The company also mentioned that they will cooperate with a large granular urea producer in Brunei, in which DCM will become a strategic distributor of this company.

"No more cheap fertilizer"

- The company expects that fertilizer prices will continue to stay at high level at least until 2023, and the lowest possible urea price could be USD550/tonne.
